

G G D C G G

verse1:

D

There was a little boy

C

once upon a time, who in

G

G

spite of his young age and small size, knew his mind. For every copper penny and

D

C

clover he would find, make a

G

G

wish for better days, the end of hard times for no more...

chorus:

D

G

G

cold feet. Cold cold cold cold cold feet...

(now keep playing D C G G for the verses and C D G for the choruses the whole song...)

verse2:

D

His clothes were alway clean,

C

his face was always scrubbed, there was

G

G

food on the table, enough to fill him up. His house was full of life, his

D

C

house was full of love, but when

G

G

winterdays arrived, there was never money enough to shod this

D

G

G

cold feet, cold cold cold cold feet...

verse3:

D

He grew up to be a worker

C

determined to succeed, he made a

G

life for himself free from

G

worldly wants or needs. But with nobody to share the life he'd made no-

D

C

body to keep him warm

G

G

at night, when he'd go to sleep he'd sleep alone with his...

C D G G

cold feet, cold cold cold cold feet...

verse4:

D

One night he walked the street looking

to the heaven above searching

G G

for a shooting star, a benevolent god. When a woman passing by brushed his

D

C

arm he turned and found love. He then wished for the courage to ask this stranger who she was to not have...

G G

G D G G

cold feet, cold cold cold cold feet...

verse5:

D

One year later he stood beside her. He vowed I'll give you everything you want. She said, "I'll take some love from my heart to keep your body warm, you won't have...

C

G G

C D G G

cold feet, cold cold cold cold feet"...

verse6:

D

He thought she'd like the party life and

C

want the finer things, so he

G

promised more than he could by, He'd promised her the sun and the moon to not have...

G

C D G G

cold feet, cold cold cold cold feet...

verse7:

D

He worked day and night, his

C

fingers to the bone.

G

His worried mind, guilty conscience drive him on. He can give her what she needs. He wants to give her what he thinks she wants. Her sad eyed face, his empty pockets drive him on _____ and his...

D

C

C D G G
cold feet, cold cold cold cold feet...

verse8:

D He'd struggled all his life to
C
be an honest man, proud that the G G
dirt on his palms was the soil of the land, but some
D
guys he knew from high school days
C
said they had a plan to get
G G
rich real quick and they could count him in if he don't have...

C D G G
cold feet, cold cold cold cold feet...

verse9:

D
He thought about their offer,
C
accepted it without qualms.
G G Dreamt about the life he'd buy, the comfort that would come without...

C D G G
cold feet, cold cold cold cold feet...

verse10:

D
He decided to drive the car, he decided to carry the gun, to take the G G
C
biggest risk of all to prove his loyalty to his friends. He decided to tell his wife
D
C things would soon turn around. He said, "The G G
little boy is dead, a man stands with you now, without...

C D G G
cold feet, cold cold cold cold feet...

C D G G
Without ... cold feet, cold cold cold cold feet..."

verse11:

D

He thought he'd set his clock right. He thought he'd read his wath. He left in such a hurry, he didn't think to wish for luck. Makes no difference if you're early, no

C

G

G

D

C

difference if you're late,

G

G

G

when you're out of time. The flowers have been laid. You're six feet underground with
